Notes :

- Prices for multiple-user commercial/industrial licenses are available on request.
- The teaching license allows installation of the software on an unlimited number of work stations designates for student instruction in the use of TerraSys, on the condition that the work stations are all situated in the same physical location (as defined by the civic address of the institution). In the situation where the institution desires to install the software on a number of work stations in different locations, it must obtain a separate license for each location. No copy of the software may be made by the students and no commercial use of the software is authorised. It is the responsibility of the license holder to ensure that these conditions are respected.
